

eDiscovery Assistant: The Only Curated Case Law Database and Resource Center

Designed by practicing eDiscovery attorneys, eDA curates eDiscovery case law, rules, checklists, and forms that deliver on-demand, practical knowledge to give litigators and the professionals that support them the ability to get up to speed quickly and credibly.

eDiscovery Assistant's proprietary tagging structure takes the guesswork out of finding ediscovery case law by issue, judge, jurisdiction, or date.

Key Technology

- Federal, State, U.S. District Courts, Regulatory, and eDiscovery Model rules in one place
- Checklists available for planning case strategy, legal hold implementation, source identification, and more
- Organize research into exportable cite lists
- Glossary of non-technical terms available and highlighted throughout eDA
- Review built-in tips from eDiscovery attorneys and industry experts

Why eDiscovery Assistant?

More organization, more practical content, and most importantly, more knowledge at your fingertips.